TOLD YOU SO! B'GOSH!

THE DOCTOR QUIT!

A Caucus Called For Tonight to Choose a Candidate.

JUDGE W. H. HOLT IN THE LEAD

Some days ago Tins Laidman suggested that the only course open to Dr. Hunter was to write a letter withdrawing from the Senatorial race, and leave the people to deal with those who were responsible for his defeat.

The Doctor has done the former; the people will most surely attend to the latter when they get a chance at the "patrons" in Convention or at the ballot-box.

A caucus has been called for tonight to select a candidate.

The Ripley Bee prints a baby story about a party of hunters from that town who discovered a crazy and nude colored woman lying near the water's edge above this city. At the approach of the hunters the naked form took to the willows, yelling like a Comanche. Probably they mistook the airship for a female, or else they had an extra drink of Ohio river water.

HAPPILY MARRIED.

Pretty Wedding at the Home of Mr. Q. A. Means Yesterday Afternoon.

"Hear the mellow wedding bells,

Golden bells!

What a world of happiness their harmony foretells!

Through the holy air day

White they ring out in their play!

From the mellow golden notes

And adieu, time,

To the tumult of this world!

To the tumult of this world!

On the level

Ob, from out the sounding cells

What a rush of euphony volitionally swells!

How it dwells!

On the future! How it tells

Of the rapture that impels

To the swelling and the ringing of the bells,

To the ringing and the ringing of the bells!

Mr. Joseph B. Roper and Miss Nellie Means were married yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, Rev. S. D. Dutcher pronouncing the sacred ceremony which made them husband and wife.

It was a simple, beautiful event, wholly unmarked by any display of flowers or toilet, and as the young couple stood before the representative of authority, both legal and divine, one could not help exclaiming of the loveliness of the bride and the manliness of the groom.

The young lady is the accomplished daughter of Mr. Q. A. Means, and is possessed of those characteristics which make her fit to become the presiding genius of a home.

Mr. Roper has only been a resident of our city twelve months, having been born in Cynthia twenty-four years ago, where his past life speaks for his honest, genuine manner, which has endeared him to a large circle of friends among our citizens. He lately purchased the eating saloon of Mr. Lutz on Market street, where he has, by politeness, attention and sobriety, added largely to his business and income.

After the congratulations and good wishes of the assembled few had been extended, Mr. and Mrs. Roper were driven to the C. and O. Station, where to take the 4:35 train for Cincinnati, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Upon their return Saturday they will take up their residence at the bride's home.

The LEDGER extends the glad hand to Mr. and Mrs. Roper.

The presents were many indeed, very handsome and useful.

Miss Anna Means, sister of the bride, was married at the same hour at Cripple Creek, Cal.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT!

PROSPECTS THROUGHOUT THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

GENERAL REVIEW.

The weather conditions of the past seven days presented practically a continuation of those for the several preceding weeks, except that during the last three days the much wished for sunshine prevailed, stimulating to some degree the growth of vegetation, despite the low temperature which accompanied it. The early part of the week was cloudy and rainy throughout the state, the majority of stations reporting three days with rain fall, and some four or five days. In only a few scattered counties did the amount exceed normal however, the greater portion of the state receiving slightly less than the average. Coming as it did after a protracted period of excess it served to keep the soil in such a condition as to render it unfit for plowing and had the effect of retarding general farm work. The abundant sunshine and brisk winds of the last three days resulted in considerable improvement and this week closed with a more favorable outlook than at any previous time.

The temperature remained low throughout the week, the daily average ranging from 6° to 10° below the normal. Frost was general and in some sections heavy on the 17th and 18th, but so far no reports of serious damage have been received.

WHEAT SECTION.

The condition of agricultural interests has been slightly less favorable in this than in other sections of the state. All correspondents report great backwardness in the season, but do not speak discouragingly of the prospect. The favorable conditions of the last half of the week permitted the resumption of plowing for corn on the uplands, but the bottom lands are still too wet for work, and but a very small proportion of it has been done. Very little, if any, corn has been planted. The sowing of oats has not been completed, and is making very slow progress. Some of the earlier sown portion is up and looks well. Wheat is in generally fine condition, but a few complaints are made that it is yellowing for lack of sunshine. Clover and grasses of all kinds are doing well, and stock has been turned out in the pastures. The condition of tobacco plants has improved during the week, though a scarcity of them is reported from a number of counties. Reports generally indicate that fruit escaped serious damage from recent frosts. But little gardening beyond the planting of a few potatoes in favored localities has been done.

CENTRAL SECTION.

All forms of vegetation made very slow progress during the week, and farm work is backward in most counties this section. The past two weeks have been a standstill, and, unless a marked improvement in weather conditions comes very soon, farmers will be very late in the completion of spring work. A few correspondents in the more southerly counties report some fields of corn planted, but the majority state that very little progress has been made in the work of plowing for the crop on account of continued dampness of the soil. The sowing of oats is still in progress, and although the work is backward, it is further advanced than in other sections. Wheat is reported by the majority of correspondents to be in fine condition, but some few state that its growth is too rapid, and from others come reports that during the past few days it has yellowed in places. Grasses continue to make good progress. Tobacco plants are up in the beds, and in most counties a plentiful supply seems assured. Practically no gardening has been done as yet. It will require some time to determine the extent of damage to fruit, but the indications are that it has not been serious in most counties.

EASTERN SECTION.

Despite the lower temperatures experienced in this section, farm work, though very backward, is relatively in advance of that in other parts of the state. This is especially true of the more southerly counties, reports from Clay, Laurel and adjacent counties indicating that plowing for corn and the sowing of oats is completed. This work is still very backward in the Northern counties of this section, especially in those bordering upon the Ohio. Wheat and grass continue to improve. It is probable that the frost caused greater damage in this than in other sections of the state, but its extent cannot yet be determined. Tobacco plants appear to be doing fairly well, but the correspondents in Fleming county report them to be very scarce. Similar reports come from other counties. Some little gardening has been accomplished in the Southern portions of this section, but elsewhere none has been done.

Tom Hargis Brings Suit For a Remarkably Fat Fee.

FUTURE MAKE ANARCHISTS!

In Louisville a few days ago a petition in which judgment for $5,074.50 is asked against the Germania Safety Vault and Trust Company was filed in the Common Pleas division by Judge Thomas F. Hargis in the case of the Columbia Finance and Trust Company vs. the Germania Safety Vault and Trust Company.

Judge Hargis alleges that in December, 1894, the Germania Trust Company employed him as solicitor in equity to examine suits and records, ascertain evidence, study the case, and prepare an intervening petition in the name of and for the Germania Safety Vault and Trust Company, to be tendered to the United States Court for the District of Indiana, in the case of the New York Security and Trust Company against the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Consolidated Railroad Company, asking for the removal of the Receivers who had theretofore been appointed, and the appointment of other Receivers.

Judge Hargis claims that the Germania Trust Company agreed to pay him $30 a day while employed on the case out of his office, and a further reasonable fee, and also to repay to him all sums expended by him in traveling and other expenses incident to the conduct of the case.

His claim that he was out of his office in conducting the case for twenty-four days, making the amount due him, at $30 per diem, $720. The petitioner says further that he expended $94.50 in preparing the case, and that a reasonable fee for his services under the alleged agreement is $7,500, making a total due him of $8,074.50.

The case is now on for trial at 10 o'clock this morning.
